

let's play house

Personalize one for any room and live the organizing.

we like to eat snacks together in here!

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then Aniko painted blue and gray triangles (In The Moment and Off The Grid, both by Behr) to punch up the natural wood. Pegs cut from dowels support

GUTTER CREDIT TKT/TKTK

[fun decorating]

I like watering the flowers

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then Aniko painted blue and gray triangles (In The Moment and

ASKING FOR SHOT WITH KID

GUTTER CREDIT TKTKTK

my house looks like an A

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it

I hide from my sister in here

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it

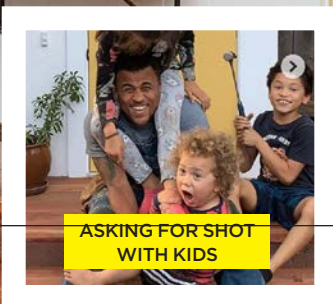

[fun decorating]

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then Aniko painted blue and gray triangles (In The Moment and Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then Aniko painted blue and gray triangles (In The Moment and wipe your feet first if you want to come in!

[fun decorating]

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then Aniko painted blue and gray triangles (In The Moment and

my house looks like an A

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's what makes it cool!" Then

I hide from my sister up here

Talk about a labor of love: The Richmond, VA, blogger DIYed this dream setup for her son Patrick. She started with two 4-foot-by-8-foot plywood boards and drilled 1-inch holes for impact: "I wanted to play up its pegboard-ness—that's

GUTTER CREDIT TKT1K